ODDSSKARÐ
THE EAST ICELANDIC ALPS
-do you want to ski or wait?

The East Iceland ski area in Oddsskarð is located between Eskifjörður and Norðfjörður. Oddsskarð is considered one of the most diverse ski areas in Iceland and is certified for international competitions. There are three drag lifts and a summit lift that reaches 840 meters above sea level. Oddsskarð, or the East Icelandic Alps as it is often called, offers spectacular views over Reyðarfjörður, Norðfjörður and the Gerpir area.

In the “Sunshine Slope,” there is a beginner lift suitable for both kids and beginner skiers. Facilities for snowboarders are also excellent. The slopes are groomed daily, and the ski lodge offers refreshments and ski rentals.

The rental shop provides a very good selection of skis and snowboards in all sizes, along with all related equipment. During good winters, it is even possible to ski from the mountain summit all the way down to the sea — an experience that can rarely be enjoyed elsewhere.

For more information, visit the Oddsskarð website or call the information line at 848-1474.
